

Journal of Data Mining and Digital Humanities

Journal of Data Mining and Digital Humanities (JDMDH) is an online-only, open-access, peer-reviewed scientific journal covering research in all aspects of humanities fields.

- ✓ JDMDH could support publication of awarded papers with presentation of original studies mining data produced by humans
- ✓ JDMDH has an international committee which can review your best contributions to be published and disseminate through the Episciences platform
- ✓ Take the opportunity to widely disseminate studies of a special track where chair organizers would promote social and humanistic data processing through a special issue
- ✓ Topics for instance but not only: social network mining, multimedia/multilingual corpus analysis, data journalism, literary archiving, visualization of archaeological/historical data, space-time multibase analysis, symbolic and numeric (qualitative and quantitative) analysis, ...
